

10-12-1934

UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald, Vol. XI, No. 2

WKU Student Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records

 Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, Mass Communication Commons, Poetry Commons, Public Relations and Advertising Commons, Social History Commons, Sociology Commons, and the Sports Studies Commons

Recommended Citation

WKU Student Affairs, "UA12/2/1 College Heights Herald, Vol. XI, No. 2" (1934). WKU Archives Records. Paper 3730.
http://digitalcommons.wku.edu/dlsc_ua_records/3730

This Other is brought to you for free and open access by TopSCHOLAR®. It has been accepted for inclusion in WKU Archives Records by an authorized administrator of TopSCHOLAR®. For more information, please contact connie.foster@wku.edu.

Largest Homecoming Crowd In History Of Western Will Trek To Hill On Nov. 3

THIRD DISTRICT TEACHERS OPEN MEETING TODAY

Several Noted Speakers Are To Address Educators, ALUMNUS IS HEAD Eleven Counties Of State Are Represented By Group

The Third District Educational Association opened its annual meeting on the Hill today. Several hundred members from the eleven counties of the district are in attendance. The opening address was delivered this morning in Van Meter Hall by Dr. John Howard Payne, president of the district, president of the State Teachers College and of the Kentucky Education Association.

A special feature of the program will be the sectional meetings of superintendents, county board members, and trustees. A complete Daniel Boone library will be given for the best county attendance.

The officers of this district are: H. B. Gray, principal of the Woodburn High School; vice-president, D. P. Curry, principal of Cave City High School; and secretary-treasurer, B. L. Curry, principal of Bristol High School.

The complete program follows: FRIDAY MORNING 9:30 Address, Dr. John Howard Payne, President K. E. A. 10:20 Announcements and Nomination of Officers.

10:30 Panel Discussion: Dr. J. L. Harman, Presiding General Problem: "What Does Kentucky Have a Right to Expect of its Teachers?"

1. Adequate Organization and Effective Administration. L. C. Curry

2. High Professional Preparation. W. H. Sugg

3. Preparation Transmuted into Service. W. L. Matthews

4. Permanent Fiscal Security. Dr. M. C. Ford

11:50 Adjournment FRIDAY AFTERNOON Departmental Meetings Department of Secondary Teachers

(Continued on Page Six)

Western's Band Will Play At Local Bazaar

The Western College Band will take part in the Welfare Home Bazaar and Merchants Exposition to be held at the Planters Warehouse on Sixth and College Sts. today and tomorrow.

The band will march from the square and play after the hall is reached to night. Two other bands, the Bowling Green High School Band and the 149th Infantry, will also play during the bazaar. The training School Orchestra will play on two occasions.

Several features were announced today that will contribute a very definite part to the success of the fair. A moving picture to be shown free of charge by the Kiwanis Club will come from the World's Fair.

One hundred nine booths sponsored by the local merchants will be on display. The entertainment will consist of singing, interpretative dancing, vaudeville acts, magic, and various contests. Prizes will be awarded for the best cake.

The popularity contest, sponsored by the various clubs of Bowling Green, will close on the last day of the bazaar. All proceeds from the exposition and the contests are to be given to the Welfare Home.

WELCOME HOME

By Hazel Beach

HISTORY GROUPS TO HAVE ANNUAL LUNCHEON NOV. 3

Morton Taylor And Frank Hays Are Scheduled To Speak

By Mrs. Wallace Smith. In keeping with a long established custom, the Stickers History Club will hold its annual Homecoming luncheon on Saturday, November 3. Charter members, honorary members, present members, would-be members, and even faculty members are eligible to attend. Provided reservation made in time. This reservation (the main item of which is a "promise to pay" fifty cents) should be sent to the committee in charge of arrangements (Miss Virginia Heardon or Mrs. Wallace Smith, Teachers College) not later than Thursday, November 1.

Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock in the Annex of J. Whit Potter Hall, and those attending are requested to assemble in the parlor of this Hall prior to this time. Food (both for body and thought) will either be consumed or withdrawn in sufficient time to enable the "Stickers" to witness the trouping which the Western eleven is now planning for the Howard College group of like number. Sustainance of the first named type will be prepared and served under the direction of Miss Helen Gwin; this will cost fifty cents. Educational food (in concentrated form, like bullion cubes) is now in the process of being prepared and will be served by Morton Taylor, A. M. '33, now with the Federal Land Bank in Louisville, and Frank Hays, A. B. '30, now instructor in the Department of Law, University of Louisville; this will be served after desert, and it is free. It is urged that all History Club members remember the time, place, and price, and assurance is made that they will not forget the occasion.

(Continued on Page Six)

TRY-OUTS HELD

Over one hundred Western students answered the call for try-outs or Western Players first production, "Miss Lula Betts," in the Little Theater on Tuesday evening, October 9. A tentative cast for the play will be announced today.

The stage committees have been organized. An elaborate stage set is being planned by the artists of the club. The art-work will be done by the club artists and the members of the Art Club under the direction of Miss Martin.

Steve White spent the week-end of September 28-30 in Hopkinsville with his parents, Judge and Mrs. S. P. White.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW

Western will play its second game tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Tennessee Polytechnic Institute will furnish the opposition. Help our boys win!

BAPTIST STUDENTS HAVE FIRST MEETING

The Baptist Student Union of Western held its first council meeting of the year in Snell Hall on Monday afternoon, October 8. The officers were elected at the First Baptist Church on Saturday night, September 29. Under the leadership of Dr. M. C. Ford, faculty representative, these workers will meet weekly at Snell Hall.

The officers are: president, Kenneth Wood; first vice-president, Charles Kleiderer; second vice-president, Margaret Kleiderer; third vice-president, Josephine Hardy; secretary, Virginia Singleton; reporter, Dorothy Ellis; treasurer, Odessa Day; chorister, C. O. Evans; and pianist, Kathleen Williams.

ORDER NEW UNIFORMS

An order for twenty new uniforms has been sent in by the director of the College Band.

Each fall for the past few years has seen an increase in the band, and additional uniforms have been added from time to time since the present red and grey uniform was adopted in 1930.

The uniforms are made to order, and each new order represents a fairly large expenditure.

Robert Weldy, Bowling Green, who attended Western the past two years and who is enrolled in Purdue University this year, was in Bowling Green, October 6-8.

Homecoming Program

FRIDAY, NOV. 2, 7:30 P. M. There will be a rally held in the Stadium by faculty, students, friends and alumni at this hour. A parade through the campus and city, led by the College Band and directed by the cheer leaders will terminate with a bonfire on the lower athletic field.

SATURDAY, NOV. 3, 9:30 A. M. A concert will be given by the College Band in Van Meter Hall. The band will be composed of one hundred pieces and Heights. No one can afford to miss being present. Come in time to hear one of the best programs it has ever given on College.

10:00 A. M. A mass chapel will be held in Van Meter Hall. This will be one of the real features of Homecoming. The "Spirit of the Hill" will be the inspiration of the hour. NOT A SINGLE INDIVIDUAL WILL BE PUT ON THE PROGRAM OR PROMPTED TO PARTICIPATE. NO ONE WILL BE CALLED UPON. EVERYONE WILL BE ON THE PROGRAM AND EVERYONE WILL BE LIMITED TO ONE MINUTE. COME PREPARED FOR A REAL ONE MINUTE SPEECH. The one minute speech may be a boost for education, a word for Western, for any worthy cause, or call for a militant loyalty. It may be a suggestion or a challenge for everybody to move forward for Education. Any individual, neighborhood, county delegation or school desiring to put on a one minute stunt will have the opportunity. No one must use more than one minute.

The entire campus and all of the buildings will be thrown open to the public. Visitors, students, faculty members and their families are urged to bring lunches or family dinners and spend the entire day on the campus. Plenty of drinking water and hot coffee will be served without cost by the institution to all who are present.

The Culinary Department will prepare box lunches for all who desire them at twenty-five cents each. Persons desiring these lunches should notify Miss Florence Schneider, Western Teachers College. Those desiring a box lunch should not fail to notify Miss Schneider. Lunches will be given out at the Cedar House from 12:00 to 12:30. LUNCHESES WILL BE PREPARED FOR ONLY THOSE WHO NOTIFY MISS SCHNEIDER IN ADVANCE.

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB MEETS OCTOBER 9TH

The Schoolmasters' Club held its fall meeting at 6:30, Tuesday evening, at the Helm Hotel. The club is composed of the faculties of Western, the Business University, the city and county schools. Approximately two hundred members and guests were present.

Dr. Gordon Wilson won a box of candy for his ability to call the greatest number of names of those present. A quiz of ridiculous questions was conducted by Mr. B. L. Curry, Mr. Loudermilk, Dr. Wilson, Mr. Matthews, and Mr. Page gave philosophical answers to questions propounded.

Those from Western in attendance were: Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Ford; Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Canon; Dr. and Mrs. Hayward Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Horace McMurtry; Dean and Mrs. Finley Grise; Dr. and Mrs. L. Billings; Mr. W. J. Edens; Mr. W. J. Craig; Dr. J. H. Poole; Mr. Baker; Mr. Clarence P. Denman; Mrs. T. C. Cherry; and Misses Frances Richards, Emma Stith, Erell Egbert, Ruth Moore, Magnolia Scoville, Minnie Martin, Frances Anderson, Mary Marka, Mabel Rudisill, and Mary T. Cole.

Went to Scottsville. President H. H. Cherry went to Scottsville October 6, where he made an address to a large group of the rural teachers of Allen County. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Scottsville High School and was sponsored by Superintendent G. L. E. Rather.

For the second Homecoming in 1934 a pep club similar to the present one was organized. The Hilltoppers defeated Georgetown with a score of 19-0. The third program in 1929 provided possibly the most exciting of all Homecoming games. The day before the game there was a steady and heavy rain. Centre College managed to slip one more point than Western through the mud and won a 7-6 game.

Centre's touchdown was made in the first three minutes of play; Western's in the last quarter. By 1929 the History Club, W. Club, and the Rocky Mountain Field Trip group had established the custom of holding Homecoming dinners for their returning members.

A feature of the 1930 Homecoming was open house in the Art Gallery and Kentucky Museum. The Hilltoppers won their football game with Louisville with a 7-6 score—another exciting game.

The fifth Homecoming combined with a celebration of Western's twenty-fifth anniversary was undoubtedly the most elaborate and successful program ever held on the Hill. Three days dedicated to the exercises.

(Continued on Page Four)

CHEER LEADERS FOR '34 CHOSEN BY CHAPEL VOTE

Kleiderer, Milner, Bass, And McGoodwin Are Picked

Charley Kleiderer, Billy McGoodwin, Sam Milner, and Bill Bass will be the cheer leaders for the school year of 1934-35, according to the vote of the student body taken in chapel on Friday, September 28.

A different method was used this year in the nomination, and election of the cheer leaders. This time each class nominated vari-

(Continued on Page Six)

CONCEIVED HOMECOMING IDEA

PRESIDENT H. H. CHERRY

SCHOOLMASTERS' CLUB MEETS OCTOBER 9TH

The Schoolmasters' Club held its fall meeting at 6:30, Tuesday evening, at the Helm Hotel. The club is composed of the faculties of Western, the Business University, the city and county schools. Approximately two hundred members and guests were present.

Dr. Gordon Wilson won a box of candy for his ability to call the greatest number of names of those present. A quiz of ridiculous questions was conducted by Mr. B. L. Curry, Mr. Loudermilk, Dr. Wilson, Mr. Matthews, and Mr. Page gave philosophical answers to questions propounded.

Those from Western in attendance were: Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Ford; Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Canon; Dr. and Mrs. Hayward Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Horace McMurtry; Dean and Mrs. Finley Grise; Dr. and Mrs. L. Billings; Mr. W. J. Edens; Mr. W. J. Craig; Dr. J. H. Poole; Mr. Baker; Mr. Clarence P. Denman; Mrs. T. C. Cherry; and Misses Frances Richards, Emma Stith, Erell Egbert, Ruth Moore, Magnolia Scoville, Minnie Martin, Frances Anderson, Mary Marka, Mabel Rudisill, and Mary T. Cole.

Went to Scottsville. President H. H. Cherry went to Scottsville October 6, where he made an address to a large group of the rural teachers of Allen County. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Scottsville High School and was sponsored by Superintendent G. L. E. Rather.

For the second Homecoming in 1934 a pep club similar to the present one was organized. The Hilltoppers defeated Georgetown with a score of 19-0. The third program in 1929 provided possibly the most exciting of all Homecoming games. The day before the game there was a steady and heavy rain. Centre College managed to slip one more point than Western through the mud and won a 7-6 game.

Centre's touchdown was made in the first three minutes of play; Western's in the last quarter. By 1929 the History Club, W. Club, and the Rocky Mountain Field Trip group had established the custom of holding Homecoming dinners for their returning members.

A feature of the 1930 Homecoming was open house in the Art Gallery and Kentucky Museum. The Hilltoppers won their football game with Louisville with a 7-6 score—another exciting game.

The fifth Homecoming combined with a celebration of Western's twenty-fifth anniversary was undoubtedly the most elaborate and successful program ever held on the Hill. Three days dedicated to the exercises.

(Continued on Page Four)

CEDAR HOUSE IS NOW OPEN ENTIRE WEEK

Students, Homecomers Are Asked To Drop In For Relaxation

By Roy Keller. The Cedar House has long been devoted to the leisure time and pleasure of the students. But this year, more than ever, Miss Elizabeth Strayhorn has seen to it that every possible addition for the pleasure of those who use the Cedar House has been procured. She is anxious to introduce this "home-on-the-Hill" to all students and Homecomers.

If one is looking for a delightful spot to spend his leisure time, whether it be minutes or hours, he should drop around to the new recreational center of the Hill, the Cedar House. Here he may play a game of ping-pong, have a chat or engage in any of the numerous games provided for his entertainment. Whether one listens to the radio, reads the latest on the piano, reads plays, studies, or just loafs he can find no more enjoyable hours than can be spent here.

The Cedar House is open all the time this year. One is welcome every day and evening, including Saturday and Sunday. Various clubs have one night a month scheduled for their meetings, but at all other times everyone is welcome.

If one's week-end seems dull, he should come in and join the Cedar House group. If one has a date and it's too cold to go out, he should bring him or her over to the Cedar House where Miss Strayhorn assures a properly chaperoned, but enjoyable evening.

Those students who drive in from the country and bring their lunches are offered the use of the Cedar House kitchen. The management wishes that they eat there and feel at home.

Miss Strayhorn of the Mathematics Department is supervisor of the Cedar House. She and Miss Lillian Johnson of the Psychology Department are there whenever they do not have classes. In their absence student assistants are on duty to see that one enjoys himself.

Lou McCoy, former Western student, is studying nursing at Norton Memorial Infirmary in Louisville.

(Continued on Page Four)

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED TO BE AT CELEBRATION

Mass Chapel To Be Feature On Saturday Morning Program

HOWARD WILL BE FOE "W" Club Members Will Have Annual Banquet Saturday Night

Approximately 8,000 persons are expected to be on College Heights Homecoming day, November 3. Elaborate preparations for the entertainment of visitors are being rushed to completion.

The initial Homecoming event will be a rally in the Stadium by the faculty, students, friends and alumni. The time is set at 7:30 p. m. Immediately following the rally there will be a parade through the campus and city, led by the College Band and directed by the cheer leaders.

Saturday's program opens with a concert to be given by the College Band in Van Meter Hall at 9:30. The band is composed of one hundred pieces and will offer one of the best concerts ever held on the Hill.

Following the concert, the traditional mass chapel will be held in the auditorium. To many Homecomers the informality of this occasion will be the one big feature of the entire celebration. No one will be asked to speak, but all are urged to come, prepared to say something. Speeches will be limited to only one minute.

The football game, at 2 p. m. tomorrow, November 3, at 2 p. m. promises to be a classic. Howard College, Birmingham, is rated one of the strongest teams in the lower South. Much interest has been manifested, and the stadium is expected to be filled to its greatest capacity.

Single tickets to the Homecoming game are $1.10. Season tickets to all the home games including the Homecoming game are $3.25. Persons who expect to attend all games will save $1.50 by buying a season ticket. Those desiring Homecoming or season tickets should communicate with Miss Florence Schneider, Western State Teachers College.

The institution will not serve a noon meal in the regular dining room on Homecoming day, but a box lunch will be served all students.

(Continued on Page Four)

Student Employees Get First Pay Checks

The F. E. R. A. student workers received their first pay checks on October 1. Checks received were for approximately two weeks work.

Under present arrangements each student is allowed fifty hours of work each month. The maximum remuneration is thirty cents an hour or $15.00 a month.

The F. E. R. A. has made a definite classification of jobs in which students may be placed. Clerical and stenographic jobs, library work, campus improvement, and building repair are typical of the activities being conducted.

Appears on Program. The Warren County Convention of Christian Churches met Wednesday, October 3, at the Oakland church. The meeting was presided over by Mr. C. A. Loudermilk, member of Western's faculty. Other members of the faculty who were on the program were Mr. George V. Page and Dr. A. M. Stickers.

(Continued on Page Four)

College Heights Herald

Published by
The Students of Western Kentucky
State Teachers College

Advertising Rates and Sample Copies furnished on application.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Alumni Dues and Herald, One Year.....$1.00

All students at the college become subscribers to the College Heights Herald upon registration.

Address all communications to The College Heights Herald,
Bowling Green, Kentucky.
Office—Physical Education Building

Milton A. Jones, '35.....EDITOR

Joe M. Hibbs.....BUSINESS MANAGER

1114 College Street

BUSINESS ASSISTANTS

REPORTERIAL STAFF

FEATURE WRITERS

SPORTS STAFF

EDITORIAL WRITERS

SOCIETY EDITOR

CLASS AND CLUB EDITOR

EXCHANGE EDITOR

ALUMNI EDITOR

TRAINING SCHOOL EDITOR

CHAPEL EDITOR

STAFF ARTIST

Entered at the Postoffice at Bowling Green, Kentucky, under Act of March, 1932

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1934

HOMECOMING

A typical American institution, which is an outgrowth of our college life is the annual Homecoming Day, which every college in the country designates for some time during the fall. The need for a holiday of this kind was not found by accident, rather it is the outgrowth of the American spirit of loyalty and love of country.

This same splendid spirit and attitude are the attributes that make for a great citizenship. Our people have always found abundant life in their love for friendship, and they have been loyal in their support of every traditional custom. So it is not without reason that many of our students of yesterday and today rejoice over their visit to the Hill at Homecoming. The ties of love, friendship and loyalty are great. We feel that our former students will not overlook the opportunity to return to College Heights under such favorable circumstances, because of the opportunity to renew old friendships. We know that they enjoy many pleasant memories of student days and will rejoice in a visit that is full of happiness. We feel that there is love and loyalty existing in the hearts of every alumnus of Western for this institution that has given them such wonderful educational opportunities. They have received the many benefits that come with the associations of college life. They are grateful for the instruction, and kindly assistance given them while here. From the classroom and chapel lectures they have received inspiration that have transformed their lives and given them the key to success. They are ever mindful of the tremendous amount of hard work and money expended to give life to a vision of greater College Heights. They realize that they will be the benefactors of every improved condition in our educational program.

Besides presenting an opportunity to visit with friends and to become acquainted with new educational ambitions, the occasion provides for entertainment. The variety football team will meet Howard College on the gridiron. They receive your presence and solicit your support.

Why not plan a real vacation on November 31 Every student should see Mammoth Cave. From Bowling Green you can reach the cave region in less than an hour's time.

We look to your Homecoming visit with much pleasure.

LIFE MORE LIFE

You who came to Western for your college work, came seeking "Life More Life." The seal of Western shows that Western stands for that. If you had not wanted that fuller life, you would never have spent the long hours that you have in order to reach the goal that is now yours. There are some who have sought for "Life More Life" by doing everything that life allowed, and they have turned Life into License. There are those who have sought to have everything that life could offer, and they have turned Life into Greed. There are those who thought to obtain this fuller life by enjoying everything, and they have turned Life into Pleasure. There are those who sought for Power and Place, thinking that these held Life for them, and they have turned Life into Ambition. And there are those who have found that Life More Life was gained by living for others. These enjoy Life at its fullest. I wonder what we have sought from the fuller life our work here at Western has offered us? Have we made it a time of preparation for greater service?

But it is not enough to look at the outer circle of the seal. The heart of it all is found in the center—The Spirit Makes The Master. When the spirit rules a life, that life will truly be More Life. Let us hear what the Master Teacher has to tell us about this. He says, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Only as the Spirit rules our spirit can we enjoy this more abundant life. Ambition, Greed, Pleasure, License, none of these ruling our spirit can ever make us master of the life we live.

You are going away from Western: some of you to teach, some to other kinds of work some of you back to your homes. Will you be masters of your life and of the situation in which you will find yourself placed? Or will that situation master you? A Wise Man very long ago said, "He that ruleth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city." Let us take the seal of Western as our motto into the life that waits for us, and that life will be a more abundant one as we make the spirit master of all that life shall bring.

THE CEDAR HOUSE

The Cedar House is open throughout the entire day. President Cherry has done another gracious thing for the students of College Heights by making it possible to use the Cedar House freely. This will bring joy to many students on the campus. It is especially intended for those persons who drive to school and have no place of relaxation. In the Cedar House there are all the comforts that one desires. There is a radio, a piano, a place for study, and a place to eat.

It is Dr. Cherry's wish that the entire student body take advantage of this opportunity. Let's all get the habit of saying, "Let's Drop by the Cedar House."

(Editor's note: The above is a summary of a speech made by Lillian Ruff, A. B. '34, at the Summer School Senior Party.)

THE MAGIC WORD

By Rena Belle Angle

Once upon a time there was a Little Boy who came to Western to seek his refinement. At first the Little Boy was bewildered. People with civilization in their faces looked at him askant and called him "Freshman." Every day he went to a Big Room where sometimes the Big Man or other big men walked to him. The Little Boy listened. After a few weeks he found out that the Daily Pavilion was not a rustic dance hall and that the Cedar House was not the school wardrobe. He learned that history might be fatal, that math was inescapable, and that the English teachers wanted his autobiography. He found that it was best to humor the instructors in their demands. Like little boys he knew, they were more friendly if they could have their own way. The Little Boy began to feel at ease. The civilization look no longer frightened him. By mid-October he boasted that he was as orientated as those pitiful creatures called Seniors—the people with the apprehensive expressions.

Then one day the Little Boy's security was shaken. He began to notice an undercurrent of excitement and expectation in the upperclassmen. The Big Man talked of a Great Event that was coming. Everybody except the Little Boy seemed to know about it. Other people's intensity aroused him. He began to investigate. He felt the thrill in the upperclassmen, he saw feathery crimson and gray wands being made, he heard animated conversations about the Great Event. The Little Boy was mystified. Then one day he heard a Magic Word. It was on every man's lip. The Seniors especially spoke the word with a joyful reverence. The Little Boy tried to whisper the word to himself. He couldn't say it. A passing Senior gazed at him and murmured something about spirit. The Little Boy was abashed.

One night the Little Boy joined hands with the upperclassmen. He was laughing and cheering along the streets. He followed the Band to a spot where a big bonfire burned. The Magic Word was all about him. The Little Boy shivered in delight. He tried to imagine what the word was. Tomorrow he would know; for tomorrow was the Great Event.

The next day the Little Boy walked to the Big Room. He met people on the sidewalks, people with unfamiliar faces who were literally rushing into the arms of the big men and upperclassmen. He gazed in wonder. He went into the Big Room. He was startled at the number of strangers. He slipped into a seat by another little boy and watched. Excitement gripped him. He was going to know the Magic Word. The Big Man walked out to the place where he always stood when he talked to the Little Boy. The strangers rose and cheered. The Little Boy looked at the strangers again. He realized that they really didn't look so unfamiliar there in the Big Room. There was that same civilization look in their faces with just a bit of mellowness. He looked at some Seniors. Yes, the strangers were related to them. The Little Boy began to think. He remembered the excited conversation he had heard about the vague Magic Word. The Big Man opened his mouth to speak, but the Little Boy was carried away by a sudden inspiration. He stood up and shouted. He shouted the Magic Word. Homecoming!

Collegiate Days and Nights

Paul R. Huddleston

The glory of the late autumn afternoon possesses a hushed and dreaming world. Red leaves drift lazily downward in a flame of color. Hazy, ethereal blue pervades, merging finally into the dark blue of distance. Insects are droning faintly, lazily. A small bird flits into view, then out again. A brook is murmuring and gurgling. Somewhere, cowbells are tinkling. It's good to be alive. (The above is just so much hooey. I wrote it on one of the most dark, drab, dreary, drizzly autumn afternoons I ever experienced.)

I see the freshmen have a chance to elect some excellent class officials this year; John Woods, possibly the outstanding candidate for president, is one of the finest young men I have ever known. He is a graduate of Male High School and has been a leader in student activities for many years.

Charlie Runyon, a graduate of Marion High, is probably the leading vice-presidential candidate. He was valedictorian of his class, is extremely witty, and is one of the best piano players on the Hill.

Daisy Pearce, the girl from the Training School, should be easily elected secretary.

The indications are that Charlie Banks will be elected treasurer. I don't know whether the connection between his name and the office is intended as a pun or not; at any rate, he would make a good banker for the class.

Leslie Greenspan, Philbert to you, aspires to the position of sergeant-at-arms. Good-luck Philbert.

Last week I received an unexpected visitation from an old friend of mine, Robert Weldy, who is now attending Purdue University, the greatest technical school in the world according to him. Weldy was a student at Western during the last two years, and we slept regularly through the same classes. He and Roy Kelley, probably know more about the modern art of hitch-hiking than any two individuals this state has ever produced, having traveled by that honored method over a large part of this continent. Weldy is particularly interested in the development of the Diesel Engine, and I predict for him a brilliant future.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

Collegiate Days and Nights

Paul R. Huddleston

The glory of the late autumn afternoon possesses a hushed and dreaming world. Red leaves drift lazily downward in a flame of color. Hazy, ethereal blue pervades, merging finally into the dark blue of distance. Insects are droning faintly, lazily. A small bird flits into view, then out again. A brook is murmuring and gurgling. Somewhere, cowbells are tinkling. It's good to be alive. (The above is just so much hooey. I wrote it on one of the most dark, drab, dreary, drizzly autumn afternoons I ever experienced.)

I see the freshmen have a chance to elect some excellent class officials this year; John Woods, possibly the outstanding candidate for president, is one of the finest young men I have ever known. He is a graduate of Male High School and has been a leader in student activities for many years.

Charlie Runyon, a graduate of Marion High, is probably the leading vice-presidential candidate. He was valedictorian of his class, is extremely witty, and is one of the best piano players on the Hill.

Daisy Pearce, the girl from the Training School, should be easily elected secretary.

The indications are that Charlie Banks will be elected treasurer. I don't know whether the connection between his name and the office is intended as a pun or not; at any rate, he would make a good banker for the class.

Leslie Greenspan, Philbert to you, aspires to the position of sergeant-at-arms. Good-luck Philbert.

Last week I received an unexpected visitation from an old friend of mine, Robert Weldy, who is now attending Purdue University, the greatest technical school in the world according to him. Weldy was a student at Western during the last two years, and we slept regularly through the same classes. He and Roy Kelley, probably know more about the modern art of hitch-hiking than any two individuals this state has ever produced, having traveled by that honored method over a large part of this continent. Weldy is particularly interested in the development of the Diesel Engine, and I predict for him a brilliant future.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is a lake of fire and brimstone into which they will be eventually plunged? Not the missionaries have conveyed to them the catechism and taught them to make themselves uncomfortable in pants; the merchant galleys followed with that other civilizing agent, rum, which to their untutored stomachs was lightning, and those not converted by the one were killed by the other. Everywhere, it seems, the harsh tentacles of civilization have reached.

Gabygabs: Semi-songation of the month, "Never Slept a Wink Last Night." Well juniors will be freshmen, it seems. Favorite antipathies: brilliantly colored fingernails, small-town sophistication, and popularity hounds. World's public enemy No. 1.... Dan Cupid.... I daresay the emotion of love has caused the human race ten times as many heart aches as the emotion of hate. The modern opera could be more appropriately called the "teopera."

What those good five-cent cigars now need is a good country. Definition of a blotter: Taal which one seeks while the ink dries.... I received this postcard from a friend who was visiting the World's Fair, "Huddleston, you hold Livermore; I've got Chicago!"

By the way, Livermore is a wonderful place, without the symmetry and perfection of our planetary system would be incomplete. As a matter of fact, the elements of material nature would long since have resolved themselves back into their original chaos had there been such an hiatus in creation as would have resulted from the Livermore of California.

Not so long ago, while I was in the Physical Education Building, a certain military officer entered the room; I continued to lounge. He evidently thought I belonged to his "army," for the result was astonishing. He wriggled his horns, exhaled a few flames, emitted a puff of black smoke—and that was all I had departed for an unannounced destination.

For a long time I have had a desire to take me to the utmost parts of the globe in order that I might seek out nature in its beauty and its simplicity. Where should I go? To the islands of the Southern Seas, where the rude Islanders disport themselves upon the burning sands in wretched ignorance of pantaloons and the cheerful fact that there is

SOCIETY

NICHOLSON-STRONG WEDDING SOLEMNIZED
Mildred Nicholson, Central High School, and W. H. Strong, Arden, South Sea Islands, were married Saturday, September 22, at the home of Mrs. D. A. Thomson in Greenville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Gross, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Strong left immediately for a trip through the North and East. They sailed October 1 for their island home, where Mr. Strong is connected with the Pan American Oil Company. Mrs. Strong was formerly a student at Western.

MRS. FORD ENTERTAINS CLUB
Mrs. M. C. Ford entertained her bridge club at her home on the Nashville pike Saturday afternoon, September 29.

Cherry-Sims Engagement Announced
Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hardin Cherry of Bowling Green announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to John Earl Sims of Princeton. The wedding will take place in late December.

Satterfield-Gilliam Wedding Announced
Erline Satterfield and C. A. Gilliam, Scottsville, were married September 15 at the Methodist Church, with the Rev. H. C. Ogles officiating. Only the intimate friends of the couple and the families were present. After the ceremony the couple left on a short trip to Florida. They will reside in Scottsville. Mrs. Gilliam is a graduate of Western and has been teaching

CULTY RECEPTION HELD FOR STUDENTS
The annual faculty reception for the student body at Western was held Friday night, September 28, at the Physical Education Building. Music was furnished by Western's Singing Ensemble. Light refreshments were served.

VISIT OUR BOOTH AT THE WELFARE BAZAAR

2662

PERMANENT WAVES

Given since January

THERE MUST BE A REASON

Lois Glyn & Helm Beauty Shops

PHONE 238 PHONE 530

The Price of a Good Photograph

is NOT the money you exchange for it, but the personal Happiness and Mental Satisfaction.

You Will Find Our Prices Most Reasonable

Three 5x10 Photographs One in Colors $7.50

James of Every Style Miniatures Kodak Finishing of High Quality.

Franklin's Studio

930 1/2 State Street Phone 212

Welcome, Old Grads-

PHONE 1000

AND

Enjoy Your Stay In Bowling Green by Driving OUR U-Drive-Its

EFFICIENT TAXI SERVICE

Day and Night

The Blue Cab Co.

H. D. HARDY

Office Helm Hotel

in the Bowling Green city schools since her graduation.

Entertain With Party
Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Billings entertained with a bridge party at their home on Broadway, Thursday night. Game refreshments were served.

Karn-Tichenor Ceremony Performed
Evelyn Karn and Edward Owen Tichenor of Owensboro were married at Booneville, Indiana, September 23. The Rev. Amos Taylor, pastor of the Booneville Baptist Church, officiated. The couple will reside in Owensboro. Mr. Tichenor is a former student of Western.

Garvin-Ray Marriage Announced
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Garvin of Canaan announce the marriage of their daughter, Nell, to W. E. Ray, of Brownsville. The wedding took place in Bowling Green, May 12, 1934. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ray are graduates of Western and have been teachers in the schools of Kentucky. Mr. Ray at present is connected with the forestry department of the Mammoth Cave National Park. They will make their home in Cave City.

Class and Club

JUNIOR CLASS
On September 27 the Junior Class met in the Physical Education Building, room 307. Harold Link, retiring president, presided and introduced Mr. W. L. Mal thews, who represented the athletic committee. The nomination of cheer leaders and enlistment of the Pep Squad preceded the election of officers. Those nominated were: Sam Milner and Dorothy Elrod. The following officers were elected: D. Yandell Page, president; Gerald Bender, vice-president; Buddy Widener, secretary; Harold Link, treasurer; Roy Kelley, parliamentarian. Following the election Mr. H. M. McMurry, sponsor of the class, spoke.

ENGLISH CLUB
The English Club of Western held its first meeting of the year in the Cedar House on Thursday night, October 4. Rena Belle Angie, vice-president last year, was in charge of the meeting. After a short business session Dr. Wilson, the new sponsor, addressed the club. In addition short speeches were made by Miss Emma Stith, last year's sponsor, Miss Frances Richards, Miss Sarah Middleton, and Mrs. T. C. Cherry. The new officers are: president Rena Belle Angie; vice-president Mary Jeff Jordan; and secretary-treasurer, Calista Beasly.

CHEMISTRY-PHYSICS CLUB
The Chemistry-Physics Club held its first monthly meeting at the Cedar House on Wednesday, October 3. The meeting was devoted entirely to business. Officers for the first semester are as follows: president C. T. Posey; vice-president, Robert Fields; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Fortenberry; reporter, Wilson Jones; and sergeant-at-arms, Gayle Lake. Eighteen students applied for membership and will be voted upon at the next meeting.

FRENCH CLUB
The French Club held its first meeting Tuesday night, October 2, in the Cedar House. The main purpose of the meeting was the initiation of the new members. The initiation took the form of a trip from the United States to Paris, France. Various ordeals had to be undergone by the new members before they finally reached Paris, where refreshments were served. Besides the initiation of the new members, the election of the club officers took place. Leonard Hudson was acclaimed president and Martha Dixon was elected secretary-treasurer, also by acclamation. Webb was nominated sergeant-at-arms.

Nine new members were taken into the club. There are four old members. There were several visitors and one out-of-town guest present on Tuesday night.

CHERRY COUNTY LIFE CLUB
The Cherry County Life Club recently held its first meeting of the current school year. The club is composed of majors and minors in the fields of agriculture and biology. In past years it has been one of the largest organizations on the Hill. The initial attendance indicates a still greater membership this year. The club is under the supervision of Mr. W. J. Edens, instructor in the Agriculture Department. Other faculty members connected with agriculture and biology work take an active part in the activities of the group. The officers elected at the first meeting were: president, John Wells; vice-president, Sam White; secretary, John Wilkey; and treasurer, J. H. Rogers. The regular meeting time of the club is the third Wednesday night of each month.

CONGRESS CLUB
The Congress Debating Club began the year with an organization meeting on Friday evening, September 21, at Snell Hall. The club was addressed by Dr. Lancaster, the sponsor, and John B. Thomas, a former member. All old members of the club were given an opportunity to speak for a few minutes. The following officers were selected in the business session, presided over by Paul Hoddleston, president pro tem: president, Roy Kelley; vice-president, Milton Jones; secretary, Robert Fields; sergeant-at-arms, Paul Hoddleston. These officers serve for a term of five weeks.

COLLEGE HI SENIORS
The Senior Class of College Heights High held its first business meeting on October 3 and under the direction of Mrs. Luther D. Weeks, class sponsor elected class officers for the ensuing year. Those elected were: Edith Hines, president; Abigail Robinson, vice-president; Elsie Cookley Cuthbertson, secretary-treasurer. The senior group this year is composed of 36 members, 21 girls and 15 boys.

Directors Of College Heights Foundation Hold Meeting Oct. 1

The regular annual meeting of the directors of the College Heights Foundation was held Monday night, October 1, in the office of the organization. The four directors whose terms expired at this meeting were re-elected for three years. Those re-elected to their respective positions were: Mrs. H. R. Matthews, Senator M. M. Logan, and Mr. O. G. Byrn. The personnel of the board is made up of: President H. H. Cherry, Mr. Laurence B. Finn, Senator M. M. Logan, Mrs. H. B. Matthews, Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, Mr. E. B. Stout, Mr. W. T. Hines, Mr. O. G. Byrn, Mr. Morgan Hughes, Prof. J. R. Alexander, Mr. R. P. Green, and Mr. Sam H. Allen. Mr. R. H. Seward, Mr. Will B. Hill, and Mrs. Ruby Harned were re-elected to their respective positions of secretary-treasurer, field representative, and stenographer. The secretary submitted his eleventh annual report, which included an account of the work done by the Foundation during the past year.

The foundation has made over 4,100 loans amounting to $150,000. In addition to its own funds it has handled loans for the Knights Templar Educational Loan Fund at Danville. The directors voted unanimously to have work on the Kentucky Building resumed as soon as the necessary funds could be raised.

Ethel Alma Pollin, daughter of J. W. Pollin, Beech Bend Road, has received a scholarship in the Graduate School of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago. She will do work toward the Master of Arts degree. Miss Pollin graduated from the Training School in 1929 and continued her studies at Western, receiving the A. B. degree in 1934.

Miss Mary Marks of the Geography department recently made an address at Centertown High School.

ALUMNI

Edwin B. Topmiller, former Western student, will leave October 12 for Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, where he has been appointed by the Adjutant General to attend the Government School of Chemical Warfare.

Willard Day's father, mother and two sisters, of Elizabethtown attended the Western-West Tennessee football game October 6.

Martha Gardner spent the week-end of October 5-7 in Louisville.

Dorothy Jones spent last week-end at her home in Elizabethtown.

Helen Arnold left Tuesday for Latonia, Ky., to attend the W. C. T. U. convention, as delegate from the local Young People's Branch of the Union.

Mary Anderson of Pembroke, former student of Western, spent the week-end of September 29-30 with friends in Bowling Green.

Mrs. M. A. Leiper of the Kentucky Library spent Wednesday, September 26, in Nashville.

Dorothy Jones, a Western student, spent the week-end of September 29-30 at her home in Elizabethtown.

Ed Singleton, former student of Western, left September 25 for Knoxville to enter the Medical Department of the University of Tennessee.

Dorothy and Virginia Chaney spent the week-end of September 22-23 with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyte Chaney, at Woodburn.

Claude Pollard of Hopkinsville, a former student of Western, has accepted a position with the A and P Store on Park Row.

James Claypool, A. B. '34, of Bradfordville, returned home Sunday, September 30, after a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Claypool, on Park Street.

Helen Chapman spent Sunday September 30, with her brother, Morris Chapman, B. S. '33, who is now teaching in Christian County.

Tom Hobbs, B. S. '34, is attending the Medical School of Vanderbilt University.

Bernard Rabold, a former Western student, recently entered Vanderbilt University.

Mary Frances McChesney, A. B. '34, has secured a position in Salem, teaching Latin and English in the Salem High School and music in the grades.

Myra Brown, A. B. '34, has accepted a position in the schools of Irvine.

Robert Stevenson, who received the M. A. degree from this college, has recently been elected assistant principal of the Adairville High School.

Mr. Leslie Perkins, who obtained the A. B. degree from Western some years ago, has been appointed algebra teacher in the Owensboro Senior High School. Mr. Perkins obtained the Master's degree from Indiana University and since then has been principal of Elizabethtown High School and West Point High School.

Miss Margaret Byrn, D. S. '32, who attended the University of Kentucky last summer, is now teaching home economics in Somerset High School.

Mr. J. Walter Compton, a graduate of Western's Life Certificate class of 1914 and a former member of the faculty at Murray Teachers College, sent August 2 on College Heights. Mr. Compton is a member of the teaching staff in the Louisville city schools.

Ruth Mobley, A. B. '33, is now teaching in the schools of Christian County. Miss Mobley was formerly a member of the faculty at the Howell High School of that county.

Katherine Caldwell, A. B. '34, is now a member of the faculty in Paris High School.

Mary Graham Keller, A. B. '33, has accepted a position as teacher-librarian in the Jenkins High the A. A. A. in Washington, D. C. This was his first trip to Bowling Green since his graduation in the life class of 1915. Since that time he has received the M. A. degree from Wisconsin and the Ph.D. degree from Columbia University. While here he was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Bert R. Smith at their home on the Normal Boulevard. Dr. Hudson, as well as Dr. Smith, Dr. Gordon Wilson, Mr. E. H. Canon, Mr. Ivan Wilson, and Dr. L. V. Lancaster, is a native of Calloway County.

Mr. Hudson has one of the most responsible positions in the A. A. A. He is in charge of the tobacco department.

Ralph Day, Elizabethtown, a former student at Western, visited his brother, Willard Day, and attended the Western-West Tennessee game, October 6.

J. Q. Kirby, Jr., left recently for Glendale, California, where he is a student in the Curtis Wright Aeronautical School. He did his freshman and sophomore work at Western and last year attended the University of Michigan.

Fletcher Holman, A. B. '32, Dawson Springs, attended the Western-West Tennessee football game.

Paul Stevens, B. S. '34, Dawson Springs, attended the Western-West Tennessee football game.

Merryl Runner, A. B. '34, who is now in school at Transylvania University spent the week-end of October 6-8 at his home in Bowling Green.

James Blackburn, a former student, is attending school in Washington, D. C.

Holland Harvey, A. B. '34, who is teaching at Kuttawa, spent last week-end in Bowling Green.

Selby ...

TRU-POISE

$8.50

LONG'S BOOTERY
CAPITOL THEATRE BLDG.
Bowling Green's Newest Shoe Store

Homecomers--

Let's Go!

Saturday Nov. 3

Howard College vs. Western

FILL THE CHEERING SECTION and HELP OUR BOYS TO WIN

Welcome
Homcomers

WE'RE GLAD TO SEE YOU AGAIN

Callis Drug Co.

"A Good Drug Store"

INVITES YOU

To Relax For a Chat With Your Friends At Its Fountain

We Carry a Complete Line of Toiletries and Home Necessities

"Prescriptions"

936 State St. Phone 3

KY. BIRD LOVERS CONVENE TODAY NEAR REEF FOOT

Wilson, Lancaster, And Youmans Are Attending Meet

Bird lovers of the state are assembled today at Wickliffe, where a comprehensive program has been arranged by the founders of Kentucky Ornithological Society. These are B. C. Bacon, Dr. L. Otley Pinder, and Dr. Gordon Wilson. Last night the public was invited to attend an interesting educational program at the Wickliffe High School. Another program was presented especially for the students of the school on this morning. This afternoon the members of the society will travel to Reelfoot Lake where the regular annual meeting will be conducted. A bird survey and field trip will be taken tomorrow.

The region around Reelfoot Lake affords an excellent opportunity for the study of bird life.

Probably more species of birds abound in this location than in any other area in the state. Dr. Gordon Wilson, Dr. L. Y. Lancaster, and Mr. W. B. Youmans, met yesterday to attend this meeting. They are planning to camp near the lake and will return Sunday.

Dramatic Group Will Present Play Nov. 14

The Stagecrafters under the direction of Mr. J. Reid Sterrett, Jr., will present Zane Gale's Broadway success, "Miss Lulu Bett," famous American comedy of manners, on Wednesday evening, November 14. This famous production was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for its merits during the season of 1921. Its success in New York was most outstanding. Thousands gave their approval of this interesting drama, and many "sell-outs" were experienced by its producers.

Over one hundred Western students answered Mr. Sterrett's call for try-outs for this production. The "cream of the Hill" will be selected to take the important roles in this play.

Mrs. John Sugg of Morgantown was a recent visitor of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Stephens.

PERSONALS

Mary Brownlee and Elizabeth Moss sent the week-end at their homes in Franklin.

Sarah Shipp, West Hall, spent the last week-end in Hodgenville.

Mary Lee Trinkle, West Hall, was in Franklin Sunday, September 30.

J. H. Moore spent the week-end of September 28-30 in Columbia, Mo.

Francis Good visited his mother in Scottsville last week-end.

Billy Woolridge spent last week-end in Hopkinsville.

Mrs. B. H. Redd spent last week-end with her parents at Cadiz.

Anna May Kent spent the week-end of September 28-30 with friends in Morgantown.

Mr. Horace McMurry of the Education Department recently addressed the Robertson County Teachers Institute at Springfield, Tennessee. His subject was "Self Supervision in Rural Schools." There were 125 teachers present.

Dr. Lee Francis Jones spoke Wednesday, September 26, at the chapel exercises of the Bowling Green High School. His subject was, "Value of Ideals."

Dr. Lee Francis Jones will represent Western at a conference on curriculum revision at the University of Kentucky, October 26-27. He will speak at the general session. His subjects will be, "Why Kentucky Needs a Revision of the Curriculum."

Miss Nell Robins of Supleo, Mississippi, who was head of the Physical Education Department for Women at Western for several years, paid the Hill a visit in August. Miss Robins is now connected with the Lincoln School of experimental work, Columbia University, where she has been for three or four years.

John Sims, A. B. '33, is now coaching in the Princeton High School.

Mr. W. L. Matthews, director of the Training School, was the principal speaker at the Parent-Teachers Association of the Center Street School on October 2.

Velma Lou Jones, A. B. '33, has returned from Harper High School near Franklin, where she spent several days training the school children in music for the Simpson County Fair.

One of the various exchange papers which the Herald receives is "The School Booster," the news organ of Hart County schools. The staff is composed of teachers from the various schools in the county.

All members of its staff are former students of Western. These are H. D. Packett, Lee Caswell, Mrs. Paul Logsdon, Elvira Miller, Jasper Schlinker, and Mrs. W. R. McClure. Miss Schlinker is a former member of the College Heights Herald staff.

Anne Kent visited friends at Morgantown, September 28-30.

Joe M. Hibbs spent the week-end of September 28-30 in Tennessee.

Mrs. Spenser of Waverly visited her daughter, Mary Lois, on October 1.

Those visiting home from West Hall on September 28-30 were: Roberta Cherry, Elizabeth Ward, Hopkinsville; Rena Bell Angle, Elouise Cleland, Woodburn; Evelyn Moore, Louisville; and Ida Middleton, Cave City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Rowe and daughter, Brownie and Frank, of Scottsville, spent September 29, with their daughters and sisters, Louise and Tom, at West Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilson of Horse Cave visited their daughter, Gladys, October 1, at West Hall.

Dr. D. West Richards and family, Frances Melton, and Damon Caton, were in Nashville, Saturday, September 29.

Those visiting home from Potter Hall on September 28-30 were: Ruth Hodges, Elizabethtown; Dorothy Riggs, Kariene Stewart, Barbara Bran, Central City; Dorothy Tate, Beaver; Clara Dugan, Barbara Bryan, Central City.

Francis Martin, West Hall, was in Cave City, Tuesday, October 2.

Those visiting home from Potter Hall on October 5-7 were: Velva Glover, Hawesville; Sarah Shipp, Hodgenville; Ann Green, Central City; Barbara Asher, Hopkinsville; and Mary Clara Coke Guthrie.

Mary Laura Brown recently underwent a tonsil operation and is able to be back in school now.

Annette Dixon sent the week-end of September 29-30 at her home in Scottsville.

Polly Tyree spent the week-end of September 29-30 with her parents in Paducah.

Cecile Acuff, Mary Bell Jagers, and Elizabeth Moss spent Friday night, September 29, in Franklin.

Sarah Glover of West Hall was surprised on the afternoon of September 30 by a visit from her mother.

Ruth Weldon spent the week-end of September 29-30 in Hopkinsville.

Mrs. May K. Duncan, supervisor of Elementary Training, University of Kentucky, spent the week-end of October 6-7 with Miss Mary I. Cole.

College Hi School Orchestra Makes First Appearance

The College High School orchestra gave its first program for the year at high school chapel Wednesday, September 19. The striking red and black capes which were obtained early in the fall added to the interest of the program. After two violin numbers by Mr. Weldon Hart, the director, the orchestra played "Intermezzo," "Gluck's Petite Suite de Ballet," and "Festiva."

Mr. W. L. Matthews made a brief talk in which he assured the members of the orchestra that he and the entire school were backing them in their attempts to make their organization larger and better, and expressed the desire of Mr. Hart, the orchestra and himself to make the trip to Lexington in the spring to enter the State Music Contest. With this trip to look forward to, he predicted an eventful year for the orchestra.

On October 5, the orchestra elected the following officers: Nancy Matthews president; Hayden Richards, secretary-treasurer.

The orchestra has been asked to play for the Welfare Home Bazaar on October 13 and is planning a very interesting program for that date. The program will include several solos and violin trio selections.

RICHARDS COMPOSES NEW SCHOOL PEP SONG

Dr. D. W. Richards, new head of the Music Department, has introduced a pep song of his own composition to the Western student body. It is entitled, "Stand Up and Cheer." Dr. Richards has arranged his song for both band and choral work. His motive in writing it was to promote pep and good spirit. The students have received it in that manner and it is expected to create much interest in the future.

The words are as follows: Stand up and cheer... Cheer loud and strong for dear old Western For today we raise the Red and Grey above the rest. Our boys are fighting and are bound to win the fray. We've got the team, Rah! Rah! We've got the steam, Rah! Rah! This is dear old Western's day. Rah! Rah! Rah!

DAILY AT 9:30

Wednesday, September 26, Dr. D. W. Richards presided over an informal chapel exercise. He taught the student body and faculty a new "pep" song.

Thursday, September 27, informal speeches were made by President H. H. Cherry and by the "Spurriers" for the various classes. All urged a full attendance at class meetings. Short talks were made by several students of the college.

On Friday, Mr. L. T. Smith, chairman of the Athletic Committee gave the Chapel program. He introduced all the candidates for yell leaders. Each boy lead two yells, and votes were cast to choose one representative from each class.

Monday, October 1, Mr. W. R. King, executive secretary of the K. E. A., spoke to the student body on "Education."

Tuesday, October 2, Professor Franz J. Strahm presented a musical program. Mr. Hugh P. Johnson played several violin solos. Mr. Richards sang.

On Wednesday, Dr. N. O. Taff introduced Dr. William R. Spriguel who spoke on "The Inferiority Complex, or the Feeling of Inadequacy."

Thursday, October 4, Dr. A. M. Stickle gave a talk on current events.

On Friday, Dr. Robert Perry presented several a-lists from the Band.

Dr. Ford Speaks At Kiwanis Club

Dr. M. C. Ford spoke at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club on "The Agricultural Adjustment Program."

In the course of his remarks Dr. Ford stated that one half of the employed labor in America is engaged in the processing or manufacturing of goods for the American farmer and that one-fourth to one third of the purchasing power of America is represented by agriculture and this purchasing power is equal to twice the amount of our foreign commerce.

Dr. Ford predicted that farming would be experiencing a normal income by the end of the next crop year.

Exchange Gleanings

Registrars: "Well what do you want?"
Freshman: "I wanna vote; I registered here last Monday."

Let Us Go Singing:
Let us go singing
Let us go singing, down
Along life's road,
A song, a gift easily bestowed
Let us leave smiles
Along the weary miles
Let us go singing, down
Along life's road!

Wanted—a sprinkler system in some classrooms for watering dry subjects, and restoring life to mentally "dead" students.

Kentucky Kerne!

One of the roads on the island of Crete was built about 1500 B. C. but still is good enough for an automobile to run at 60 miles an hour, according to a Michigan professor.

Southwest Standard

School days, new boys, new girls, new teachers, new books, new chances, and the same old boarding house food.

Kentucky Kerne!

I think that I shall never see
A "D" as lovely as a "B"
A "B" whose rounded form is pressed
Into the records of the blast
"D's" come easily and yet,
One is not so easy to forget
"D's" are made by fools like me
But only those who study, can make a "B."

With apologies to Joyce Kilmer
The Tech. High Rainbow

The meeting was sudden
The parting was sad;
She gave her young life meekly
The only one she had.
She sleeps beneath the willows,
Peacefully resting now.
But that's always what happens
When a freight hits a cow.

Homespun

Mary: "I want something to wear around the dormitory."
Clerk: "How large is the dormitory?"

A pedestrian is a man whose son is home from college.

Exchange Gleanings

1330: I found a million dollar baby.
1931: I got five dollars.
1932: I've still got a dollar.
1933: Brother, can you spare a dime?
1934: N. R. A.

E. H. S. Hooster

Freshmen again! At the University of Kentucky a freshman attended a geology class for two weeks before discovering it wasn't German.

How's this for instructions?
On the door of the dean's office at Creighton University is a sign which reads thus: "Get your grades and pass out quietly."

At a certain college student taking a history exam were asked to state briefly the Monroe Doctrine. The prize for correctness went to him who answered "Scram Foreigners."

Cords at Ohio State gave those specifications for their ideal man:

1. Able to stand idle patter of women without being bored.
2. Good manners without being gawky.
3. Independent.
4. Conceited.
5. Domineering.
6. Sense of humor.
7. No obvious line.
8. Good conversationalist.

KENTUCKY LIBRARY GETS INTERESTING HISTORICAL RECORD

By Dorothy Cheek

Minute books of the First Presbyterian Church dating from 1819 recently were placed in the Kentucky Library for safekeeping. This material is most interesting history because it contains the record of the division of church in Bowling Green into the Northern and Southern branches following the Civil War. Each division gives its reasons for separation and the records for each division of the church during that period until they were reunited.

Many other old records have been placed here for safekeeping. Some of these are old official records of Warren County and the City of Bowling Green. These are being classified and catalogued as rapidly as possible and will be ready for use by any one interested in research pertaining to the history of this section of the State.

Alvin Craddock was a recent visitor of Lavina Scott. Gresham Houghland sent the week-end of September 29-30 in Paducah.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Miss Mary I. Cole had as her guest for the week-end of September 29-30 Miss Bianca Esch professor of Elementary Education in the Louisville Normal School.

Evelyn Martin spent last week-end at her home in Greenville.

Mary Belle Jagers, West Hall was in Franklin, October 4.

Welcome Homecomers

NOW--

Is the time to select your season's war-ing apparel.

We Have a Complete Line of Sport, Street and Dinner Dresses; and Hats for All Occasions.

Nell O'Bryan's

HAT AND GOWN SHOPPE

Bowling Green Trust Co.

Opera House Building, College Street

GENERAL BANKING INVESTMENTS

We Solicit Your Checking Account
We Want You for a Customer
You Will Like Us as a Bank

again--

the western lunch room

(the old standby)

assures all--

homecomers

a hearty

welcome

"Food Cooked the Way you Like It"

Phone 1581 At Foot of The Hill We Deliver

STUDENTS!

ATTEND THE

Merchants' Exposition

AND

Welfare Home Bazaar

Over One Hundred Exhibits, Plus Huge Entertainment Program

Popularity Show—Flower Show—Baby Clinic—Cake Exhibit—Pony Show—Bands and Orchestras.

Western's One-Hundred Piece Band and Training School Orchestra.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS
CLOWNS — MAGICIAN — STUNTS

Thurs. Night, Friday and Saturday

OCTOBER 11-12-13th

ADMISSION 10c SEASON TICKETS 25c

Planters' Warehouse

Sixth and College

STUDENTS!

ATTEND THE

Merchants' Exposition

AND

Welfare Home Bazaar

Over One Hundred Exhibits, Plus Huge Entertainment Program

Popularity Show—Flower Show—Baby Clinic—Cake Exhibit—Pony Show—Bands and Orchestras.

Western's One-Hundred Piece Band and Training School Orchestra.

VAUDEVILLE ACTS
CLOWNS — MAGICIAN — STUNTS

Thurs. Night, Friday and Saturday

OCTOBER 11-12-13th

ADMISSION 10c SEASON TICKETS 25c

Planters' Warehouse

Sixth and College

Velva Glover, West Hall, spent the week-end of October 6-7 at her home in Bowling Green.

X-Ray Shoe Fitting

Insures Correctly Fitted Shoes and Perfect Feet

Measuring your foot under the X-Ray

Shining polished shoes - the result of correct fitting.

X-Ray Shoe Fitting is a Free Extra Service for Our Patrons

Pushin's

The House That Was A Wedding Fee

A beautiful spot of fertile, yet unbroken land over which wild animals, such as deer, foxes, and wolves roamed—stretching out over four hundred acres, with its numerous elm, which for over one hundred years have been standing as sentinels in this magnificent forest, in which a wonderful, old-fashioned spring bubbled cool refreshment, and then flowed on—it was here in all thisylvan splendor, approximately two miles from Bowling Green on the Scottsville Road was built a beautiful colonial home known as Lapsley Hall.

This home was more generally known as "The House That Was a Wedding Fee," by the fact that the land on which it was built was given to Dr. Joseph B. Lapsley, the first pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. This first house of Presbyterian worship was situated in the south corner of the old cemetery at Sixth and College Sts. Joseph Lapsley is interred there and his grave may still be found under a spreading elm, near the spot where his former pulpit stood.

Tradition says that Dr. Lapsley officiated at the wedding ceremony, down in Tennessee, of James Rumsey Skiles, a pioneer land owner, and that Dr. Lapsley was given as a wedding fee, four hundred acres of land, two and one-half miles south of Bowling Green, near Greenwood, in 1819. It is now known as the Seary farm.

Dr. Lapsley was a colonial draw-brick home. (This type of brick was made of straw and clay. It was not durable, since it had a tendency to crumble.) The house was constructed by a design of placing a long brick next to a short one. It was what is known as a tied brick house.

This home was designed by his friend, Thomas Jefferson, over a century ago. It had four rooms at the front, from which led a long hall, that extended to the back of the house and to the old-fashioned passage which connected the kitchen with the house. The floors for the most part, were made of brick, for the dual purpose of warmth and safety. Rising from this old floor covering, up a side wall, in each room was a large, old-fashioned, hand-carved mantle piece. These furnished a glowing setting for the handsome furniture of the period. The mantle pieces are the only remaining pieces of the old Lapsley Hall. They are now occupying places on the second floor of Seary's home in the cellar, numerous bunk beds were built. These were the sleeping quarters of the slaves, which Dr. Lapsley owned. Not far distant, to the rear of the home was a lovely, clear, cold spring, which provided the water for the farm and also was the means of refrigeration for the milk, eggs, and other food. In front of the old home, to the left, may still be seen a stately cypress tree. This cypress tree was brought from Mississippi for a special purpose. The purpose was carried out on Mr. Lapsley's wedding day, when he and his bride set the tree out as a monument to their devotion for each other.

It is said, that many notables, among whom were Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Thomas Jefferson, and other men of state received the cordial hospitality of the Lapsleys.

After the death of Dr. Lapsley, the Lapsley home was occupied by Dr. A. C. Dickerson for many years. Dr. Dickerson was pastor of the new Presbyterian Church, which had just been constructed in 1837. It was called the Second Presbyterian Church, and later called the First Presbyterian Church. It was built on the corner of Tenth and State Streets and is the Presbyterian place of worship at present.

Dr. Dickerson carried on the tradition of old Lapsley Hall, as many of his kin-folks relate to-day. His son's wedding ceremony was impressively performed in this colonial mansion. His bride, Mrs. Neely Dickerson, is still a beloved resident of Bowling Green.

About twenty years ago, because of the danger of its crumbling to ruin, the old Lapsley, which had already partly burned, was razed and an imposing, modern colonial home built on the site. This new home has been occupied by several families since it was constructed. It is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Seary.

It is still a pleasure to drive through the avenue of elms, which leads to this beautiful site, and vision the stage-coaches rolling over this time-worn road to southern hospitality.

Cheer Leaders Are Selected At Chapel

(Continued from Page One)

ous students, and these students tried out in chapel. Each nominee in turn, led the student body in cheers, and at the close of chapel a secret ballot taken from both the student body and faculty designated the choice from each class. Because of the nature of the previous elections, this is the first time the faculty has had a share

WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE

GENERAL BENJAMIN LOGAN

By Lena Logan A. M.
Benjamin Logan was born in Augusta County, Virginia, in 1743. His parents were Irish. He gained experience in Indian fighting from Colonel Bouquet's expedition against the Ohio Indians in 1764 and Lord Dunmore's War in 1774. In early manhood he went to Abington on the Holston, where he bought a farm and married. He became interested in Kentucky, which was just beginning to be opened up to settlement. In 1775 he went there and established Logan's Station, or St. Asaph's, near the present site of Stanford. This was the third permanent settlement in Kentucky. Logan was many times distinguished for his bravery in defending it from the Indians. On one occasion a group of women were outside milking guarded by a few men, and the Indians ambushed them. All escaped to the fort except one man, who was wounded. Logan went and carried him on his own shoulders to safety, in the face of the Indian fire.

Logan was prominent in all civil and military affairs in this period of Kentucky history. He led several punitive expeditions against the northwestern Indians. In the fall of 1784, he initiated the movement for independent statehood in Kentucky. In his capacity as county lieutenant of Lincoln county, he called a meeting of the county lieutenants in the district of Kentucky to take measures for meeting an impending Indian attack. At this time there existed no agency in Kentucky with authority to call out troops for the whole district. The Virginia government was too far away to lend effective aid. The county lieutenants decided that the best remedy for the difficulty lay in Kentucky's separating herself from Virginia and forming an independent state. They issued a call for a convention of delegates in the selection of the cheer leaders.

There were ten nominees for cheer leaders. From the Senior Class, John Meinsheim, James Shuck, and Bill Bana were nominated. Sam Milner was the only entry of the Junior Class. Charles Kleiderer, Carlos Baxter and Willis were chosen from the Sophomore Class. Freshmen entries were Louis Greenspan, Billy McGowan, and Henry Ward.

Three of the four cheer leaders have served before in the same capacity. Charles Kleiderer was freshman leader in 1933-34. He is from Henderson and is a sophomore. Sam Milner has also served one year as cheer leader. Mr. Milner comes from Paris, Kentucky. The two remaining cheer leaders are both local boys. Bill Bana, senior cheer leader, and head of the organization, has been a cheer leader since his sophomore year. Billy McGowan comes from the Freshman Class.

3rd District Group Opens On Hill Today

(Continued from Page One)

James Carman, Presiding
1:30 "Some Evidences of Need for Curriculum Revision"
Dr. Doak Campbell, Nashville, Tenn.
2:20 Election of Officers for Department
Department for Elementary Teachers
Mrs. Henry Smith, Presiding
1:30 "There Are No Bad Boys"
Harry V. Clark, Knoxville, Tenn.
2:20 Election of Officers for Department
Department of Board Members, Trustees and Superintendents
C. H. Jagers, Presiding
1:30 Address of Welcome
Dr. H. H. Cherry
1:50 "Trends in State School Financing"
P. D. Peterson, Frankfort, Ky.
2:40 Election of Officers for Department

FRIDAY EVENING
7:30 Quartet—Kaufman Straus Chanticleers, Louisville, Ky.
8:00 "Excuse Field"
Harry V. Clark
SATURDAY MORNING
9:30 Music
Central City High School Band
10:10 Address Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Atlanta, Ga.
11:10 Business Meeting
11:50 Adjournment

A Merit Value

Now
59c

2 Pair
$1.10

Full Fashion Perfect—Chiffon or Service Weight
Made in Three Lengths—Medium, Long and Extra Long

Merit Shoe Store

Incorporated

Cecile Acuff, West Hall, was at her home in Franklin October 5-6.

Shoes That Have "Eye Appeal"

OCTOBER Savings On Smart Shoes For Every Member of The Family

Charming Sandals and Pumps that reveal a new trend in contrasts and modish cut-outs for late Fall...

ALL NEW arrivals. T-Straps with upper stitchings that show two-tone leather off at their best. And Pumps of similar alluring design. Sueds, Kids, Patents, etc.)

$3.00

Men's Oxfords in stylings both decidedly smart and really comfortable...

AS KEEN as they make 'em Oxfords so flexible they need no "breaking in". Wing tips, plain tips. Every kind of toe shape. Finest (Calf or Grain)...

$3.00

Smart-looking, sturdy shoes that will last the little folks through many months

GIRLS' Low Shoes..fashioned in a varied array of cleverly paired two-tone leathers. And Boys' Oxfords of sturdy (calf and elk)..very natty for...

$2.00

MERIT SHOE CO.

Incorporated

We Welcome Students and Alumni

Max B. Potter's Store

Supplies for the Teacher and Student

Fountain Pens

Typewriters

Typing Paper

Brief Cases

WE REPAIR TYPEWRITERS, RADIOS AND FOUNTAIN PENS

Max B. Potter

COLLEGE STREET NEAR THE DIAMOND

HOME COMERS

Either

CAME OR COMING

The NEW

Goal Post

And the Old Gang

WELCOMES YOU

"Homcomers' Headquarters"

Students and Alumni

While on the Hill for Homecoming make our Shoppe your headquarters for delicious food—tasty, well prepared and reasonable.

FOUNTAIN AND CURB SERVICE

The Tip Top Eat Shoppe

"Where the College Crowd Converges"